FRIDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1871. We publish below a table of the principal domestic exports ors this port for the third quarter of the present year, as cared with the corresponding quarter of 1870, prepared for all of Dublication by the Deputy Collector General of Customs, A. Hassinger, Esq. In ten out of nincteen articles of mestic produce and export, it will be seen that there has been a stendy increase, principally however in wool, paddy, nor nides and tallow and goat skins. Sugar, our principal the nine months of the year however show an increase of r a million and a half pounds over the corresponding t of 1871. The export of coffee shows a remarkable failt mainly to the fact that our large shipments during 1870 gone to overstocked markets where we have met the is ; and to Oregon and Washington Territories, 5,638 is; while during the last quarter our exports of this artiintioned here, and that is an important one. A Ministerial "Emergency." The adroit change of base of the Hotel members figures not far from a quarter of a million pounds less of His Majesty's Cabinet brings the Hotel scheme the quantity sent forward in the same time last year, up in a new light. As journalists, we felt called upon to defend the so-called shareholders and the tax-payers; but now, we have the cause of the f-a decrease in pounds of no less than 134,144. We do latter only to defend. The shareholders, as such, mede that this is entirely owing to the blight, but attriassessments cannot be levied; or, in other words, gone of Central America and Manila. We find that we that they are not shareholders, and that the to Australia 101,453 pounds; to San Francisco, 29,844 money which they have advanced is considered in the light of a loan to the Government, for which re only 2,031 pounds to Oregon alone. Another fact may they are to receive bonds payable in five years. After perusing the minutes of the extraordinary meeting held at the office of the Minister of al consequence is a loss of the former good reputation of Finance, we are satisfied that the principal anxiety of the persons present, was to establish their status. Were they, or were they not, responsible shareholders? Could the ghost of untold assessments be laid, they were satisfied. We are been-September 30th, Sea Breeze, not convinced that the last plan developed was > divert attention from the boat. To the would-not-be shareholders, we have simply to say, that although relieved of all responsibility as shareholders, they have still a duty to perform as citizens, to prevent the encroschments of a seemingly irresponsible Ministry upon the public treasury. It will be remembered by many, that at the session of the last Legislative Assembly much dissatisfaction was expressed with the Report of the Minister of Finance, because several appropriations in excess of necessary expenditure were tapped and diverted to meet expenditures in excess of appropriations. Remarks which fell from leading Nobles and Representatives showed conclusively that they regarded the license taken by the Finance Department with no little alarm.

was made in deference to public opinion: figuratively, the tub was thrown to the whale, to

We are aware that Article 15 of the original draft of the present Constitution-the character of which was so ably criticised at Livuka recently -as presented to the Convention by the Ruling Genius of His Majesty's Cabinet, read as follows: "No subsidy, duty or tax of any description shall be established or levied without the consent of the Legislature, nor shall any money be drawn from the Public Treasury without such consent; except when between the sessions of the Legislature an unforeseen emergency shall arise, and then not without the concurrence of all the Cabinet * * "

The very vague expression-"an unforeseen emergency shall arise,"-immediately attracted the attention of a native delegate, who claimed that "the nature of every emergency should be specified," and by motion of a foreign born Noble it was amended to read,-

"No subsidy, duty or tax of any description shall be established or levied, without the consent of the Legislative Assembly. Nor shall any money be drawn from the Public Treasury without such consent; except when between the reasons of the Legislative Assembly the emergencies of war, investon, rebellion, pestilence, or other public disaster shall arise, and then not without the concurrence of all the Cabinet and of a majority of the whole Privy Council * * *." Quite a spirited discussion took place upon the mendment. The then Attorney General, Charles Coffin Harris, was pleased to say : . . His Majesty did not at all desire that the public hould be appropriated without check. Contingencies metimes arise that could not be foreseen. If this the Court House were burnt down, for instance, it eccessary to build it up again, or hire another; the pox was another illustration, where it became der to save the lives of the pe pie, to appropriate Privy Council became responsible for $20,000. the Government, not for purposes of corruption. Sometimes people were and to be lavish of other people's money, and this it is a matter of regret to us that we cannot oftener agree with Mr. Harris; but when he remarks that sometimes people are apt to be lavish of other people's money, and such a condition of flairs needs to be guarded against, we heartily concur. A case clearly in point, is his lavish expenditure of the money of His Majesty's subjects upon his insane Hotel scheme, and our humble efforts are directed to the end that it may be guarded against. We do not suppose that with all the assurance and audacity for which he is noted,-with all his extraordinary capacity for distorting facts,-the Ruling Genius will claim that "war, invasion, rebellion, pestilence, or other public disaster," is imminent, calling for this extraordinary diversion of public moneys; and if not, then somebody is guilty of a breach of trust in issuing bonds payable in five years.

What would be thought of a merchant who purchased stocks, offering in payment drafts upon a bank with which he had made no arrangement or deposit of funds? Wherein does this extra-Constitutional act of the Minister differ from the criminal parallel which we have drawn?

The Attorney General of Convention times thought that the Ministry should be trusted sufficiently to carry on the Government. True, a Ministry ought certainly to possess the public confidence sufficiently to be so entrusted. But when we consider the tortuous path by which he reached his then position; his infamous treatment of the American Missionaries when he hoped that another religious sect would supplant them ; the part he bore in wresting the Constitution 4 of 1852 from the people; his overbearing manner towards Representatives in the Assembly; the manner in which he secured the appointment of the late Envoy to Washington, in direct opposition to the wishes of parties most interested ;not to speak of acts more intimately connected with his official career,-this retrospection is not calculated to strengthen trust in the Ministry he

If, as is now claimed, the Hotel scheme is a purely Governmental one, a matter of public improvements, why do we find it removed from the Department of the Interior, where such matters belong? Why was not the Minister of the Intefirst named, according to previous laws, must rior present at me harmonious meeting of which we read? It is true, however, that the Minister of Finance excused the non-attendance of the head of the Interior Department on the ground of the enforcement of the eight-hour law. that his views in regard to the size and cost of the structure were not in harmony with those ight men, bore the inscription—"Eight hours of his colleagues. amount of cheap labor will be secured by means of a liberal colonization scheme now being agitated." Thus, from abroad again we get the first inkling of what is going on at home. We first hear from Fiji of the annexation schemes of hear that we are to be "liberally colonized" from Japan. Perhaps, though, there may be another annexation plot concealed beneath this colonization idea. The United Empire of Hawaii and Japan would by no means be too wide a field for the exercise of such talcut as is now hidden in the obscurity of the Hawaiian Foreign Office.

Much has been said and written about the evils of awa drinking among the natives of these islands. While the root is said to possess valuable medicinal qualities in certain cases when used discriminatingly, its mischievous effects in the system when taken freely and often, as a narcotic, are quite apparent to all who are familiar with native habits. Laws have from time to time been made by the Legislature to restrict the use, but the ease with which they were evaded rendered them worse than a nullity. Latterly the system was adopted of imposing a considerable penalty upon the licensed dealer in awa, who should sell to any person not provided with a certificate from a physician to the effect that such person was allowed to use awa for a certain specified time, and the dealer is furthermore required to preserve all such certificates. Recently wo cases of violation of this law were brought in the Police Court of this city, and the parties were fined each $100. One of the cases was appealed to the Supreme Court, and after due trial on Wednesday last, the jury of twelve intelligent natives brought in a verdict of acquittal, in the face of most positive testimony as to the infraction of the law, not one tittle of evidence for the defense, and a clear and plain charge from the presiding Judge. Without impugning the motives of the jurymen, it is difficult to guess what onsiderations led to such a verdict, in direct intrariety to the law and the evidence. Our ith in the jury system becomes shaken, and any contrariety to the law and the evidence. Our faith in the jury system becomes shaken, and any hope of checking the indiscriminate use of the pernicious drug is rendered futile.

A Melbourne correspondent of the London Mail, under date of June 15th, speaking of the prospects of the Webb line receiving the subsidy to run to Sydney, connecting with Melbourne and Auckland, says that a legal hindrance has been discovered to the entertainment of the American Postal Contract. The 17th and 18th Victoria, cap. 107, expressly prohibits foreign Floor and Table Oilcloths, vessels from engaging in coasting traffic in any of Britain's colonial dependencies. It seems somewhat strange that this provision of law, which if unrepealed must be fatal to Mr. Vogel's contract, has never before been thought of.

The London Times censures the importation of foreign workmen to take the places of "strikers" in England, and favors the nine-hours movement on moral and sanitary grounds.

SHORT AND SHARP .- General Sherman has a bluff and effectual way of disposing of false reports. He denies the great slaughter of Indians by the United States troops, as reported in the papers from time to time, and pointedly says, "If we killed half as many as the N. Y. Herald says we do, we'd be short of Indians," which certainly is a quaint way of stating the case.

There's nothing like a young man being thrown on his own resources. A gentleman of Boston died ten years ago, leaving to each of his children $70,-One day last week one of the sons applied to a commercial college for a situation, having been reduced to circumstances requiring assistance. He told a friend who had extended to him some aid, "If father hadn't left me a cent, and set me up in siness, it would have been much better for me.' Young men who are born with a silver spoon in their outh will please make a memorandum of this. This young man did not know the value of a dotlar until he had parted with the seventy thousandth or ast one that his father left him.

The Richmond Whig seriously puts forward a roposition that the United States shall pay $3 .-00,000,000 for the slaves emancipated by the war. claims that by dividing the money with the slaves the Democracy can command their votes, and thus win. This is Tammany tactics on a large scale. It simply means that the United States treasury shall furnish Democratic bribe money as the New York treasury furnishes Tammany bribe funds. The suggestion from any but a Democratic source would be ludicrons. But made by a outhern journal to Northern Democrats it compels us to reflect that it is not more unreasonable than the demand for the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, for the sympathy of the Democracy with rebellion, or for pig-headed resistance to the results of the war, to all of which the Democracy vicided with blind zeal.
